"BOARDWALK SUFFRAGIST" PLANS VOICELESS ROLLER CHAIR PARADE BY ATLANTIC CITY'S GAY WAVES

Atlantic City, N. J., June 27—They call her the "Mother Confessor," and also the "Boardwalk Suffragist." Mrs. Ella Gulford is both. She is the first because many a lovelorn couple have poured their woes into her ears, and she has tried to comfort them with good advice. She's the second because she has been spreading the "votes for women" propaganda among the floating summer population of this resort and is now organizing a boardwalk roller chair parade for suffragists. It will be held in July, and about fifty chairs will be in line, with the occupants from many states clad in the suffragist colors of yellow and white. It will be a silent parade—silent in a technical sense, for who could imagine the dear ladies remaining voiceless on such an occasion? No speechmaking of any kind is permitted on the boardwalk. Visitors from many cities will see this "voiceless parade."

MISCHIEVOUS LADS' THEFTS DISRUPT RAILROAD SERVICE

Petty Pilfering Leads Them to Tear Out Signal Wires—
Penalties Meted Out

Probable commitment to the Meriden Reform school until of age, for two boys and suspension of like sentence for two others was the penalty imposed today upon a quartet of local thirteen years old boys who have been instrumental recently through the cutting of signal wires in disrupting the fast passenger service on the New Haven road. As an accessory, David Lipschitz, a junk dealer, living at 573 Hancock avenue, who purchased a quantity of the wires, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail, the imprisonment later being suspended upon good behavior "upon plea of counsel for clemency."

According to special railroad agents John O'Brien and Thomas McDonagh who accomplished the arrests after several days and nights of hiding in the bushes near Ash Creek, "home signals" have been suddenly set against express-trains at odd times during the past two weeks. Examination found that the copper bond wires had been removed by a gang of boys swimming in a pool between Burr road and "Tin bridge." In each instance emergency trains had to be called out and the signals repaired before traffic could be resumed on the road.

Yesterday Steven Lutar, John Kolmogor, John Zabo and Tony Huber west side boys were caught cutting the wires with a hatchet and traced until they sold it to the local dealer. When arrested they pleaded they needed money to attend picture shows. Kolmogor has previously been before the court upon charges of burglary and Lutar is already upon probation. That their fathers might appear and contest their being sent to Meriden, sentence was deferred until tomorrow. The other two commitments were suspended upon probation.

A request to the authorities that indecent exposures in the swimming holes along the railroad tracks be stopped has been made by the railroad authorities and arrests will likely follow where fights or bathing suits are not used hereafter.

Tony Dobner, arrested last night while sleeping in a railroad car in the east end yards was sentenced to ten days in jail, a suspension of judgment following.

ELECTROCUTION OF GEN. MAY FOR DOUBLE MURDER

Eddyville, Ky., June 27—General May, in the stock of whose pistol was said to have been carved eight significant notches, was electrocuted in the state penitentiary here today. May, who was christened "General," was condemned for the murder of Mrs. Belle Meredith, of Clay County, Mrs. Meredith was shot down after May had killed her husband. They had differed over a boundary line.

May was first convicted for the murder of Meredith and sentenced for life. Then he was tried for the killing of Mrs. Meredith. May had been a deputy sheriff. In a fight several years ago, he received twelve bullet wounds and was left for dead. May had said he was sure he would not die a natural death and that as he had lived 43 years he would rather know when the end was coming so he could be prepared.

MELLEN'S HEALTH SOUND.

The Foundings Have Not Broken His Strength.

(Wall Street Journal.)

Inquiry has been made of late as to how long Charles S. Mellen could stand the batteries that are being trained upon him by Louis D. Brandeis through the Washington authorities, the New York World, and the New York American. The Boston News Bureau reports that last week Mr. Mellen, under the advice of his doctor friends, took physical examination from specialists as to his condition. The report was that at sixty-two years of age, C. S. Mellen was in excellent physical condition, no hardening of the arteries, no trouble with the valves of the heart and no part of his organization in any way affected. The doctors said that not one man of his age in a thousand could show such results from physical examination. Yet for more than thirty years Mr. Mellen has been in the harness early and late, in a perfect treadmill of work, and has never known fear nor favor in give or take. He has never sought personal gain from any position he ever held, has never fixed his compensation except to reduce it and has worked for even-handed justice. While not approving all the acts of his board he has been absolutely loyal to it. While criticizing the growing inefficiency of labor and labor organizations he has paid the highest wages and endeavored to get the best labor. He has made the mistake of believing that the public would see his work for the rebuilding and upbuilding of New England and would some day appreciate it. He is a wonderful foresight and builds for the future, but he probably did not foresee the present time when newspapers would endeavor to build up circulation with the material by attacking corporations owned by the minorities or when men would seek to get and hold office by charging the heaviest workers in the public service with neglect and criminal intent, nor did he foresee the time when the object of labor unions would be to multiply the wages of the inefficient.

JUDGE COUGHLIN ILL WITH SORE THROAT

Judge Thomas C. Coughlin, judge of the city court, is reported as confined to his home, 469 Stratford avenue, with an attack of quinsy sore throat. The condition is said not to be serious and his recovery is expected within a few days. Deputy Judge Frank Wilder presided over court today and will continue during the coming week.

Scene From The Startling Play "Man and Superman" At Plaza Next Week

As Man and Superman, the play which the Poll Players are to present at the Plaza theatre next week, has been criticized by the play critics at Montreal and Toronto, Canada, and as the piece was subjected to severe criticisms during its first week at the Strand theatre, London, and has come in for a few roasts since it played New York and went on tour in this country, Manager Reichenbach of the Plaza desires to extend to the local ministers an invitation to attend the Monday matinee at the Plaza and, if a sufficient number of the clergy thinks the play is at all objectionable, he will withdraw it. Man and Superman is from the pen of George Bernard Shaw and tends to show that man, regardless of how much he really dislikes woman, cannot remain constantly without feminine companionship. When the piece first opened in New York, Dr. Parkhurst and Anthony Comstock threatened to get an injunction against the Hudson theatre management, but nothing came of it and the New York newspaper critics said that while there were a few lines in the play which were rather startling, the play had an excellent theme and they could see no reason why, even the most exacting could object to it as a whole. If the local clergymen will but write their wishes to Manager Reichenbach at the Plaza theatre, he will mail them soon for Monday afternoon and will be guided according to their opinion.

Jap Feeling Aroused Over Expulsion Of Korean Fruit Pickers

Washington, June 27—Just a small incident in itself but very disturbing nevertheless is the preliminary official estimate of the affair at Hamel, Cal., yesterday, involving the forcible expulsion from the community of a band of Korean fruit pickers. It is expected that the incident will be the subject of representations by the Japanese ambassador as soon as he has been advised by the acting Japanese consul general at San Francisco of all the facts.

longed unless discussion were checked. Resolutions were adopted to limit debate on each item in dispute and deny any Senator the right to speak more than once on a subject.

Weather Indications.

New Haven, June 27—Forecast: Generally fair tonight and Saturday, moderately high temperature. Showers have occurred during the last 24 hours in the lake region and New England and along the gulf and Atlantic coasts. Pleasant weather has prevailed generally in the interior. The Rocky Mountain disturbance has moved slowly eastward, decreasing in intensity. There has been a slight rise in temperature in the central and eastern districts during the last 24 hours.

Conditions favor for this vicinity, probably thunder showers during the afternoon, followed by fair tonight and Saturday.

Cloture Rule To Tariff Harrangues

Washington, June 27—Senate Democrats put the cloture rule to the long tariff speeches in caucus, today, determined to complete the consideration of the Underwood-Simmons bill for report to the Senate next week. Having spent hours, yesterday, on one paragraph which was not contested when adjournment was taken, it was evident that the caucus would be pro-

M'KELVEY ESCAPES ATTENDANTS BUT IS SOON RECAPTURED

Gus McKelvey, formerly a well known resident of Bridgeport but for the past few years confined in a Hartford sanitarium escaped the watchful vigilance of his attendants yesterday and made a hurried exit from that city. Advice received at the Farmer office indicate that he was overtaken last night in Meriden and returned. No definite knowledge that he was in this city could be secured from the officials today.

He gained considerable prominence here through his automobile exploits when that type of conveyance first came into prominence as a speed vehicle.

Strange Animal In Museum At Capitol

Washington, June 27—A perfect specimen of okapi, the only one in the western hemisphere, has been exposed to view in the national museum. The okapi is the latest discovery in the animal kingdom in which scientists believed discovery had been exhausted. The strange animal was found by Sir Harry Johnston, the British governor of Uganda in the African Congo region and was purchased for the museum in London.

The price paid for the specimen is not given but it is understood to have been heavy.

The animal is a peculiar looking specimen. With a frame somewhat like that of a horse it sports zebra stripes, and an elongated neck like that of a giraffe. The animal is merely on temporary display and the taxidermists are preparing to mount it for permanent exhibition.

Banker's Home Burned With Loss Of $8,000

Unionville, Conn., June 27—The residence of S. B. Taylor, teller for the Connecticut Trust Co., and located a short distance from the local car sheds of the Connecticut Co., was burned early today. The contents were also lost. The house was a large and commodious one, built originally for a boarding school but recently bought and remodelled by Mr. Taylor for his home. The loss is $8,000 with partial insurance. Mrs. Taylor and the children are in Canada. Mr. Taylor was awakened by smoke coming into his room. He escaped by the window. The only theory Mr. Taylor has for the cause of the fire is based on the fact that he had left a small lamp burning when he retired. It may have been that the family cat overturned the lamp.
